

I have internet access through a local ISP and they are capable and helpful. I do not think it to my advantage to have cable or phone control put these local business people out of business - completely against their move to take over the Internet Access.